

ONE PERFORMANCE OF DUNN MEMORIAL

The Matinee Has Been Canceled, and Only the Night Show Will Be Given—Last Night's Rehearsal Developed Surprises in Talent That Will Take Part—Full Rehearsal To-Night at Academy.

Only one performance of the John M. Dunn memorial entertainment will be given at the Academy of Music Tuesday night, the matinee performance having been canceled.

The rehearsal held last night of those who will participate in Tuesday night's entertainment, developed considerable new talent among the local amateurs, and Manager Ed. Lyons, of the Colonial, who went over the program and witnessed part of the rehearsal, gave it as his opinion that the Dunn memorial entertainment would be the biggest as well as the most successful event ever pulled off by local amateurs.

Henry Hotchkiss will be the stage director, and his ability along that line needs no commendation. The music will be furnished by Stein's Orchestra, which to-night will play at the full rehearsal to be given at the Academy of Music at 8 o'clock.

Here is what the tentative program has for the entertainment of those who are purchasing tickets:

The Landrum String Band, of eight pieces, a musical organization of exceptional talent and ability to entertain.

"Billy" Baird, a professional in blackface monologue, one who has a laugh coming every second.

Vera Berlioz, the violinist, from the Colonial. This is a feature that will prove one of the strongest drawing cards.

Bernstein and Ruxton, blackface artists, in song and talk. Bernstein is clever at this work, and last night's rehearsal developed that Ruxton's voice was one of the sweetest and clearest ever heard in the Academy.

"Happy" Grant, of the Old Dominion Amusement Company, who is also a crackerjack at the blackface monologue and an entertainer of merit.

He has some "new ones" to crack and desires all his friends to be present Tuesday night.

Bottoms, a great big man, and a comedian, a little man, much padded, will put on a burlesque boxing match and a monologue. Bottoms beats several comers, but when he lands against the padded man there is a flurry call for the ambulance. It's almost real.

Crafts, a soloist with a splendid voice, will be heard.

Mike and Lena Machino, youngsters not yet ten years of age, but singers who fill the Academy with melody, will delight every one who attends the entertainment. This will be a surprise even for the closest friends of the youthful vocalists.

The Capital City Quartet, Messrs. Walton, Hill, Echo and Sears. They have appeared often before local audiences, and their work has always been appreciated.

Jack and Beulah Putrelle, blackface artists, from the Lubin, will aid in the evening's funmaking.

Culpepper children, sketch.

Jack Greenwood, Yiddish, Old Dominion Amusement Company.

There will be additions to the above program, which competent theatre managers last night estimated would make a performance of at least two hours, and one which would be especially meritorious.

Remember that the matinee has been called off, and only the night performance will be given. Those who will participate are urged to attend the full rehearsal at the Academy this evening at 8 o'clock.

Final Game Between Teams.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15.—Gleason's White Sox defeated Los Angeles 8 to 7 in the final game between the two teams here today.

The Harps gave the Yankigans a healthy scare in the final round by scoring three runs off Cleotis and coming within one tally of tying it up. Cleotis pitched the entire game and made a fair showing.

Morrow the youngsters meet the Vernon team, and in the evening they will start on their swing through the North.

Crawford is Through With Baseball for Good

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Detroit, Mich., March 15.—One thousand dollars stands between Sam Crawford, Detroit Tiger star outfielder, and playing baseball this season.

Before leaving New Orleans for Detroit today, Crawford declared in emphatic terms that he is through with the Detroit baseball team and the national game for good.

"I cannot get the raise that I believe I am justly entitled to, and I cannot get my release, so that I can play with any other team willing to pay me what I believe I am worth, therefore I am forced to quit the national game for good," said Crawford.

Crawford announced he was coming direct to Detroit and arranged his family matters so that he can go East as a representative of the new company that he is interested in financially.

An appropriation of $150 was made by the winners to receive a cup costing $75, the second team to be given a $50 cup, and the winners of the consolation that is the winners of the club which have lost in the first round, will be awarded a cup valued at $25.

In addition to the Middle Atlantic States championship tournament, the association has also sanctioned the following events: Baltimore Country Club, May 15, 16 and 17, and the Maryland Country Club, May 29, 30 and 31.

Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, the holder of the amateur championship, has the distinct honor of being the only man at scratch on the national handicap list for 1913, announced by the executive committee of the United States Golf Association.

"Chick" Evans is the only man allowed one stroke. He played better golf than Travers on many occasions, and on the season's performances, up to the day of the final round at Wheaton, Ill., he had the better record, but the final match conclusively established the superiority of the Eastern player.

Frederick Horroff, Payl Hunter, Oswald Kirkby, Albert Sichel, Walter J. Travis and Warren K. Wood are handicapped at two on the 1913 list.

The Country Club of Virginia is represented by three of its members at six—William H. Palmer, Jr., D. Call and Phil Prescott.

The writer regrets very much not to see E. J. D. Mackay, named in the list, as this last year has been remarkable, and he is such a finished golfer there is no excuse for him not having listed.

There is a provision for those inadvertently left off, or who may not prove enough to justify being placed on the list by September. The rule reads as follows:

If any player, whose name does not appear on the official handicap list, desires a handicap, he may submit to the secretary for consideration by the executive committee, three scores, verified by a marker, and certified by the secretary of the club, as member of this association, together with such other evidence as executive committee may require.

The tennis courts of the Country Club were open for play on March 3. They are a little slow, but otherwise in excellent condition.

Under the supervision of William R. Trice and McKee Smith, our two most excellent tennis players, six more courts have been added, making fourteen in all, so the tennis enthusiasts can look forward to a promising season.

For golfers who have not the opportunity to receive professional advice, the writer has made arrangements with The Times-Dispatch, to run an inquiry column, in which members will be given to all questions pertaining to their mistakes in a simplified manner, so that the beginner, as well as those who are in the advanced stages of the game, can understand just how to correct their faults. All letters should be addressed to the writer, in care of the Country Club of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

Dr. G. A. Nelson placed his name in the hall of fame the other day by making the thirteenth hole in one stroke. In quoting the doctor, he did not intend to hold his drive, but was simply trying to lay his ball dead, in conformity to an ancient tradition, a one-

Gossip of the Links

BY WALTER BECKETT.

The annual meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Golf Association was held at the New Willard Hotel Washington, on March 6. All the clubs were represented, except the Elkridge Hunt Club and the Hampton Roads Golf Club. The delegates from the different clubs were J. W. Atkinson, Country Club of Virginia; W. W. Neale, Hermitage Golf Club; R. H. Pritchett, Maryland Country Club; M. T. Elliott, Baltimore Country Club; Dr. Thomas J. W. Brown, Bannockburn Golf Club; Allen Lard, Chevy Chase Club; John C. Davidson, Columbia Country Club; A. Colt Yates, Washington Country Club; and R. H. Bailey, Wilmington Country Club.

It was decided to hold the Middle Atlantic States championship tournament at the Columbia Country Club, the affair to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 22, 23 and 24. The Country Club of Virginia was scheduled to be awarded this event, owing to the fact that it is such a new course it was thought best to wait another year until a few more alterations could be made, and regarding traps and getting the fair way in better condition.

The prospects are so favorable for the Country Club that they can afford to wait another year, and as all members have their interest at heart, and feel certain that when they hold the championship in 1914, the condition of the course will be such as to please the most fastidious player.

Following the usual custom, the presidency of the association went to the club which was awarded the championship, the vice-presidency going to the club which is to get it next year. John C. Davidson was given the executive position, succeeding Norman Thompson, of Chevy Chase, while the second position went to J. W. Atkinson, of the Country Club of Virginia.

Dr. Thomas J. W. Brown, of Bannockburn, and Yates Pennington, of the Baltimore Country Club, were unanimously re-elected as secretary and treasurer, respectively. These officers, with J. Ralph Bailey, of the Wilmington Country Club, form the executive committee.

Some of the most important business taken up was in connection with the "home" and "home" matches, which were so popular last year.

Complete change in these matches was deemed necessary, as the captains of the various teams found it was almost impossible to get up representative teams throughout the whole season.

According to the present plans, every team will be asked to signify its intention with respect to these matches, drawings to be then made and played off at match play.

The schedule and drawings to be arranged by a committee composed of Dr. Thomas J. W. Brown, Norman Thompson, and Charles Winter. There will be six men to a team, instead of five, eighteen holes of four-ball matches, and eight in the first round.

Each team match counting one point.

An appropriation of $150 was made by the winners to receive a cup costing $75, the second team to be given a $50 cup, and the winners of the consolation that is the winners of the club which have lost in the first round, will be awarded a cup valued at $25.

In addition to the Middle Atlantic States championship tournament, the association has also sanctioned the following events: Baltimore Country Club, May 15, 16 and 17, and the Maryland Country Club, May 29, 30 and 31.

Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, the holder of the amateur championship, has the distinct honor of being the only man at scratch on the national handicap list for 1913, announced by the executive committee of the United States Golf Association.

"Chick" Evans is the only man allowed one stroke. He played better golf than Travers on many occasions, and on the season's performances, up to the day of the final round at Wheaton, Ill., he had the better record, but the final match conclusively established the superiority of the Eastern player.

Frederick Horroff, Payl Hunter, Oswald Kirkby, Albert Sichel, Walter J. Travis and Warren K. Wood are handicapped at two on the 1913 list.

The Country Club of Virginia is represented by three of its members at six—William H. Palmer, Jr., D. Call and Phil Prescott.

The writer regrets very much not to see E. J. D. Mackay, named in the list, as this last year has been remarkable, and he is such a finished golfer there is no excuse for him not having listed.

There is a provision for those inadvertently left off, or who may not prove enough to justify being placed on the list by September. The rule reads as follows:

If any player, whose name does not appear on the official handicap list, desires a handicap, he may submit to the secretary for consideration by the executive committee, three scores, verified by a marker, and certified by the secretary of the club, as member of this association, together with such other evidence as executive committee may require.

The tennis courts of the Country Club were open for play on March 3. They are a little slow, but otherwise in excellent condition.

Under the supervision of William R. Trice and McKee Smith, our two most excellent tennis players, six more courts have been added, making fourteen in all, so the tennis enthusiasts can look forward to a promising season.

For golfers who have not the opportunity to receive professional advice, the writer has made arrangements with The Times-Dispatch, to run an inquiry column, in which members will be given to all questions pertaining to their mistakes in a simplified manner, so that the beginner, as well as those who are in the advanced stages of the game, can understand just how to correct their faults. All letters should be addressed to the writer, in care of the Country Club of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

Dr. G. A. Nelson placed his name in the hall of fame the other day by making the thirteenth hole in one stroke. In quoting the doctor, he did not intend to hold his drive, but was simply trying to lay his ball dead, in conformity to an ancient tradition, a one-stroke hole penalizes one a bottle of wine, but it being no drink, Lent the doctor is exempt from that rule.

Rives Fleming, our sterling little golfer, made a killing last Saturday by winning the cut-throat match. He made a capital round of seventy-seven, and his opponent, an Englishman, was in front, and it would please us all to see him win some of the big tournaments this season.

James B. Billings Dead.

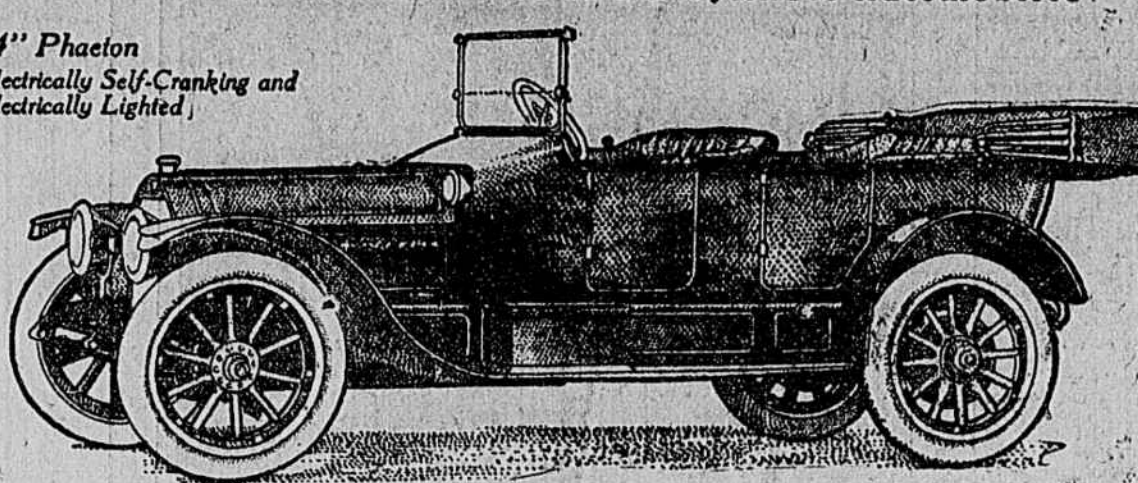

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Boston, Mass., March 15.—James B. Billings, thirty years a member of the famous "Boston Trumvirate," which controlled the Boston National League baseball club during a stormy period in the league's career, died tonight at his home here.

Mr. Billings was seventy-six years old. He retired from baseball in 1904.

The World's Largest Builders of Six-Cylinder Automobiles

"54" Phaeton
Electrically Self-Cranking and Electrically Lighted

Study the Dealer as Intently as You Do the Car

Do not purchase an automobile of a dealer in whom you cannot have complete confidence. Personality is a large factor in business dealings. The dealer whose personality engenders your confidence in him, whose business principles are sound, who is prosperous and for whom owners of cars he has sold say good words is the logical man from whose firm you can safely purchase an automobile.

GOOD SERVICE with a poor car is a better buy than poor service with a good car. If you would know the value of dealers' service in the operation of an automobile, you have but to consult men who have owned several different makes of cars and, if you will talk with any HUDSON owner, you will appreciate the value of the type of service we furnish to the owner of an automobile.

All business is done solely on confidence. Confidence of one man in another. If you cannot have confidence in a dealer who sells the car you have selected, then yours is an unsafe purchase.

The Service You Buy When Your Choice is a HUDSON

There is scarcely any limit to which we will not go to insure HUDSON owners the fullest satisfaction from their cars. We are more interested in you and your motoring interests after we have sold you the car than before you have bought. Yet, we realize that this is contrary to the attitude of the average automobile concern.

This service that we give you is but keeping faith with the Hudson Motor Car Company. There is a clause in our contract with the factory, which insures every purchaser of the highest standard of motor car service to be had, and this we cheerfully and rigidly adhere to in our deals with owners.

The New HUDSON "Six" rose to a higher point as a sales success than any 6-cylinder car has ever seen in the same length of time it has been on the market. Its exceptional performance has been unusual among 6-cylinder cars.

See the Triangle on the Radiator
GORDON MOTOR CO., Richmond, Va.

Its smooth, sweet-running mechanism gives a sensation of flying that is lacking in a 4-cylinder car. You can throttle it down to 3 miles an hour on high speed and pick up to 60 miles an hour with smoothness and ease that will be a revelation to you, if you have owned 4-cylinder cars.

You can go through city traffic at 3 miles an hour on high, with every cylinder hitting as smoothly as if you were going ten times as fast.

Avoid Disappointment in Getting Delivery

Ninety per cent of HUDSON orders are for spring delivery—hence, within a few days, it will be impossible to secure a delivery date for a car.

Hence, we cannot impress too strongly upon prospective purchasers the necessity of securing a fixed delivery date for their cars.

It would be well to come see the New HUDSON "Six" at your earliest convenience, or write or phone for new catalog.

The "54" Phaeton sells at $2450. The "37"—the "Four-cylinder masterpiece"—is $1875, prices f. o. b. Detroit.

Continuous Pocket Billiards Began in '87

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Austin, Tex., March 15.—Nine innings of today's game with the Austin team of the Texas League, was a most exciting one, with the best home talent could show was a brace when the Governor College, Lieutenant-Governor May and sundry trust State Senators and Representatives watched the game and were loud in their approbation of the variety of the national sport put up for their benefit by the New York Giants.

The Giants garnered a neat collection of sixteen hits, with a sprinkling of stolen bases where they would do the most good. Mathewson and Myers started the game and held forth during the first four innings, when they were relieved by the well-known firm of Ames and Wilson. Snodgrass, fresh from contesting a breach of promise suit, took the batting order, Fred kept himself in condition by playing with an independent team in California. Al Shultz relieved Keating, and managed to hold the Skeeters well in check for another three innings. Midway through the game the feeling sensation of the day.

Weather Man, Not a Fan.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Augusta, Ga., March 15.—The weather man of Augusta is evidently not a fan. He again broke up the projected game between the Brooklyn Superbas and Cobb's All-Georgian team today, and from the time he stepped on the grounds and the present indications of the weather it is doubtful if the game will ever be played.

The continued rains have caused the Savannah River to rise, and all the residents of the business section are busy moving their goods to the second floors of the buildings. Should the river rise a few feet more it will flood the ball park, as it did last year while the Boston Nationals were here. The water is now rising up to the hotel in which the Superbas are stopping.

The players were able to get a little workout today after two days' idleness by using the local V. M. C. A. gymnasium.

It is still raining tonight, and the river is rising at the rate of three inches an hour.

White Sox Win Again.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

San Francisco, March 15.—Thanks to Harry Lord and Ted Lester, the White Sox bats won again today from the San Francisco Seals 4 to 3. Lord and Lester collected seven of the ten hits secured off three Seals pitchers. Lester had a perfect record at bat with three singles and a double in four attempts. His clouts were mainly responsible for three Sox runs. Lord

Princeton on Southern Trip.

Princeton, N. J., March 15.—The Princeton baseball team will leave here on Tuesday on its annual Easter trip through the South. Coach Clark stated that sixteen men will be taken stroke hole penalizes one a bottle of wine, but it being no drink, Lent the doctor is exempt from that rule.

Rives Fleming, our sterling little golfer, made a killing last Saturday by winning the cut-throat match. He made a capital round of seventy-seven, and his opponent, an Englishman, was in front, and it would please us all to see him win some of the big tournaments this season.

James B. Billings Dead.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Boston, Mass., March 15.—James B. Billings, thirty years a member of the famous "Boston Trumvirate," which controlled the Boston National League baseball club during a stormy period in the league's career, died tonight at his home here.

Mr. Billings was seventy-six years old. He retired from baseball in 1904.

Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, the holder of the amateur championship, has the distinct honor of being the only man at scratch on the national handicap list for 1913, announced by the executive committee of the United States Golf Association.

"Chick" Evans is the only man allowed one stroke. He played better golf than Travers on many occasions, and on the season's performances, up to the day of the final round at Wheaton, Ill., he had the better record, but the final match conclusively established the superiority of the Eastern player.

Frederick Horroff, Payl Hunter, Oswald Kirkby, Albert Sichel, Walter J. Travis and Warren K. Wood are handicapped at two on the 1913 list.

The Country Club of Virginia is represented by three of its members at six—William H. Palmer, Jr., D. Call and Phil Prescott.

The writer regrets very much not to see E. J. D. Mackay, named in the list, as this last year has been remarkable, and he is such a finished golfer there is no excuse for him not having listed.

There is a provision for those inadvertently left off, or who may not prove enough to justify being placed on the list by September. The rule reads as follows:

If any player, whose name does not appear on the official handicap list, desires a handicap, he may submit to the secretary for consideration by the executive committee, three scores, verified by a marker, and certified by the secretary of the club, as member of this association, together with such other evidence as executive committee may require.

The tennis courts of the Country Club were open for play on March 3. They are a little slow, but otherwise in excellent condition.

Under the supervision of William R. Trice and McKee Smith, our two most excellent tennis players, six more courts have been added, making fourteen in all, so the tennis enthusiasts can look forward to a promising season.

For golfers who have not the opportunity to receive professional advice, the writer has made arrangements with The Times-Dispatch, to run an inquiry column, in which members will be given to all questions pertaining to their mistakes in a simplified manner, so that the beginner, as well as those who are in the advanced stages of the game, can understand just how to correct their faults. All letters should be addressed to the writer, in care of the Country Club of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

Dr. G. A. Nelson placed his name in the hall of fame the other day by making the thirteenth hole in one stroke. In quoting the doctor, he did not intend to hold his drive, but was simply trying to lay his ball dead, in conformity to an ancient tradition, a one-stroke hole penalizes one a bottle of wine, but it being no drink, Lent the doctor is exempt from that rule.

Rives Fleming, our sterling little golfer, made a killing last Saturday by winning the cut-throat match. He made a capital round of seventy-seven, and his opponent, an Englishman, was in front, and it would please us all to see him win some of the big tournaments this season.

James B. Billings Dead.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Boston, Mass., March 15.—James B. Billings, thirty years a member of the famous "Boston Trumvirate," which controlled the Boston National League baseball club during a stormy period in the league's career, died tonight at his home here.

Mr. Billings was seventy-six years old. He retired from baseball in 1904.

Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, the holder of the amateur championship, has the distinct honor of being the only man at scratch on the national handicap list for 1913, announced by the executive committee of the United States Golf Association.

"Chick" Evans is the only man allowed one stroke. He played better golf than Travers on many occasions, and on the season's performances, up to the day of the final round at Wheaton, Ill., he had the better record, but the final match conclusively established the superiority of the Eastern player.

Frederick Horroff, Payl Hunter, Oswald Kirkby, Albert Sichel, Walter J. Travis and Warren K. Wood are handicapped at two on the 1913 list.

The Country Club of Virginia is represented by three of its members at six—William H. Palmer, Jr., D. Call and Phil Prescott.

The writer regrets very much not to see E. J. D. Mackay, named in the list, as this last year has been remarkable, and he is such a finished golfer there is no excuse for him not having listed.

There is a provision for those inadvertently left off, or who may not prove enough to justify being placed on the list by September. The rule reads as follows:

If any player, whose name does not appear on the official handicap list, desires a handicap, he may submit to the secretary for consideration by the executive committee, three scores, verified by a marker, and certified by the secretary of the club, as member of this association, together with such other evidence as executive committee may require.

The tennis courts of the Country Club were open for play on March 3. They are a little slow, but otherwise in excellent condition.

Under the supervision of William R. Trice and McKee Smith, our two most excellent tennis players, six more courts have been added, making fourteen in all, so the tennis enthusiasts can look forward to a promising season.

For golfers who have not the opportunity to receive professional advice, the writer has made arrangements with The Times-Dispatch, to run an inquiry column, in which members will be given to all questions pertaining to their mistakes in a simplified manner, so that the beginner, as well as those who are in the advanced stages of the game, can understand just how to correct their faults. All letters should be addressed to the writer, in care of the Country Club of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

Dr. G. A. Nelson placed his name in the hall of fame the other day by making the thirteenth hole in one stroke. In quoting the doctor, he did not intend to hold his drive, but was simply trying to lay his ball dead, in conformity to an ancient tradition, a one-stroke hole penalizes one a bottle of wine, but it being no drink, Lent the doctor is exempt from that rule.

Rives Fleming, our sterling little golfer, made a killing last Saturday by winning the cut-throat match. He made a capital round of seventy-seven, and his opponent, an Englishman, was in front, and it would please us all to see him win some of the big tournaments this season.

James B. Billings Dead.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Boston, Mass., March 15.—James B. Billings, thirty years a member of the famous "Boston Trumvirate," which controlled the Boston National League baseball club during a stormy period in the league's career, died tonight at his home here.

Mr. Billings was seventy-six years old. He retired from baseball in 1904.

Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair, the holder of the amateur championship, has the distinct honor of being the only man at scratch on the national handicap list for 1913, announced by the executive committee of the United States Golf Association.

"Chick" Evans is the only man allowed one stroke. He played better golf than Travers on many occasions, and on the season's performances, up to the day of the final round at Wheaton, Ill., he had the better record, but the final match conclusively established the superiority of the Eastern player.

Frederick Horroff, Payl Hunter, Oswald Kirkby, Albert Sichel, Walter J. Travis and Warren K. Wood are handicapped at two on the 1913 list.

The Country Club of Virginia is represented by three of its members at six—William H. Palmer, Jr., D. Call and Phil Prescott.

The writer regrets very much not to see E. J. D. Mackay, named in the list, as this last year has been remarkable, and he is such a finished golfer there is no excuse for him not having listed.

There is a provision for those inadvertently left off, or who may not prove enough to justify being placed on the list by September. The rule reads as follows:

If any player, whose name does not appear on the official handicap list, desires a handicap, he may submit to the secretary for consideration by the executive committee, three scores, verified by a marker, and certified by the secretary of the club, as member of this association, together with such other evidence as executive committee may require.

The tennis courts of the Country Club were open for play on March 3. They are a little slow, but otherwise in excellent condition.

Under the supervision of William R. Trice and McKee Smith, our two most excellent tennis players, six more courts have been added, making fourteen in all, so the tennis enthusiasts can look forward to a promising season.

For golfers who have not the opportunity to receive professional advice, the writer has